EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The report below concerns a Sustainable Development Goals sensitization and awareness. The outreach was conducted on the 7th September 2025, where a group of Youth in the Nkoro community, Kajiado, were engaged in discussions concerning the SDGs.

This outreach was facilitated by one, Mong'are Abraham Sitori, A Sustainable Development Campus Ambassador with AIIDEV Africa. Being a youth as well, the session ran smoothly as he presented the topic in a language understandable to them, paving way for 'food for thought' and broad discussions amongst the youth themselves.

The target audience was the youth, as they indeed are, the change makers of this world, holding a crucial role in the projected Vision 2030.

Another key concept that was brought to their attention was the Importance of leadership in society and how they should all embrace the Qualities of leaders to benefit the community.

With great hopes and assurance, the outreach indeed had great impact to the society!

Sustainable Regards,

Mong'are Abraham Sitori,

SCOPE OF THE PROJECT

ACTIVITIES

A couple of activities were conducted by the facilitator to ensure maximum sensitization of the Sustainable Development Goals.

To begin with, the facilitator introduced himself and the role he was assuming in the sessions as a Sustainable Development Goals Campus Ambassador. He then proceeded to give a summary on what the SDGs entail with great emphasis on their impact on the society.

The first part of the session was important as it intrigued the audience to become more interested in the topic and to want to participate more on the same. With that happening, the session paved way to discussions where the youth discussed amongst themselves figuring out what the Sustainable Development Goals are. They went through the 17 SDGs as most of them were new to the concept. After the discussions, the facilitator paved way to Question and Answer session where he tackled the questions with great proficiency. Thereafter, the facilitator tasked the youth present to take into keen consideration the Sustainable Development Goals and advised them that in whatever projects they take part in, or involve themselves in, They should do it for the betterment of themselves, but with firm consideration of the future generation, as that is the core principle of the Sustainable Development Goals, as championed by the United Nations!

IMPACT

The session had a positive impact to the youth and the society at large as they were brought to awareness on a better way of living. The sensitization on leadership as well assured them on how to lead their lives better for better results in the future. The sensitization also assures the nation and the world at large that there are change makers who are well learned and have the knowledge required to bring about the change required in this world. The soonest project being Vision 2030, having created such awareness for a sustainable future is key; especially as we are now moving to a tech future. Assurances from the youth that they will incorporate sustainable development goals even in their innovation is important as it assures a better livelihood ahead.

LESSONS LEARNT

Generally, being the first session; I would deem it as a success. The concentration of the youth and the eagerness of them to be informed on how to improve their living standards and of others further proved its importance. For further sessions, use of handouts and live presentations would be a better strategy to enhance the sensitization.
